Visit at Vatsalya Trust, Sanpada: Orphanage and Old Age Home

Excelssior's education society's, K.B. College of Arts and Commerce for Women, Thane is an institute well known for extension activities and social service. Such activities are a part of the culture of the institute. As another drive for the welfare of the society the college organized an extension activity for the underprivileged children and orphans who are located at Vatsalya trust, Sanpada. Along with 24 students, 3 teachers visited on 12th Jan 2019 to this trust. There are about 30 children of age group between 5 years to 15 years who are sent to schools by the trust. There are also 20 elderly people who are located in the old age home in the premises.

The extension committee of the college planned for sharing certain useful stationery articles and other things with these children. The students of the college had made notebooks out of the remaining paper from old notebooks. They also collected various stationery items like pen, pencils, sharpeners, compass boxes, color boxes, writing pads, diaries etc. which may be useful to the children for their school work and the student's old books related to education. The students were very excited to share their things with the underprivileged children and this activity undoubtedly created sensitivity among the young students towards the need of the society. The values were incorporated by organizing this activity. The students celebrated the birthday of a small child who was more than happy as it was rare occasion for them. The children enjoyed playing games with the college students and got attached to them in these few hours and requested for more of such visits. The student volunteers spent time with the elderly people who shared their personal stories for venturing into Vatsalya out of their choice or compulsion. The stories were heart rending. The students were in tears.

The students distributed cake, chocolates and fruits which the children enjoyed. The members of the trust were very happy to show the premises and took them for a round to canteen, computer lab, residential places, activity rooms and temple. The students promised of many more such visits in future.

NOTE BOOK PREPARATION & DISTRIBUTION & SAVE ELECTRICITY PROJECT 2018-19

In K. B. College of Arts and Commerce, we as a N.S.S. Unit worked on two social welfare projects. The intention to plan and implement these projects was very clear in everybody's mind that is awareness amongst adapted area and camp side people.

The first project was related with charity towards mass neglected, deprived section of society. According to our planning, we invited all the students' suggestion for this project. As per our discussion we asked students to tear out some blank pages of their old note books. The bunch of blank pages was then turned into a new note book, which we decided to donate to school children. The donation of note book was targeted for the students who were in greater need.

The other University level project was to create awareness, related to save electricity among local community students. They were taught different methods to save electricity. The students reached out every home of Phanaswadi, Neral, Dist. Raigad and created awareness. As a result, some positive changes in terms of electricity consumption and bill were noticed.

GENDER SENSITIZATION

On 24th June 2018 a lecture was arranged on Gender sensitization for the students. Lecture was given by one of the members of Stree Mukti Sanghatana, Mrs. Pradnya Saraf. She interacted and cleared the queries of the students. Above 200 students participated in the event. The students had a lots of queries which were answered very well by expert. Keeping in mind the present scenario of problems in our country, we have made efforts to spread awareness amongst students of our college. The objective of the activity was to make the students understand the fact that equality is the essence of democracy. Democracy becomes hollow in the absence of equality. Gender equality should be the battle cry of today's democratic India.

OBJECTIVE: To make the students understand the fact that equality is the essence of democracy.

Outcome- Students aware about gender based discrimination.
